

How big an outdoor power bank should I bring to Romania

Overview

Think of power bank capacity like a suitcase: too small, and you can't fit essentials; too big, and it's a burden. Here's a quick formula: A 100Wh (27,000mAh) power bank would handle this comfortably. But wait – did you know most airlines limit batteries to 100Wh?

. While Romania is generally considered a safe and clean country, it's always a good idea to take precautions. Hand sanitizer is a must-have, especially when traveling on public transportation or visiting crowded areas. Always wash your hands thoroughly with soap and water before eating. You might. Romania has a 250 V, 50 Hz type F prongs (rounded tips), so make sure you have at least two of the adapters to bring along for your trip. These items work across regions and will help you feel prepared, respectful. Let's look at what makes a truly travel-ready power bank and how to pick one that balances size, safety, and airline compliance. " They are the most common type of outlet in Europe.
