

How to turn off the base station power function

Overview

From OFF, press-hold on the push button. Release when the Base Station has made 5 “beep” sounds. ”. Alexa reset the gosh darn lighthouses, and just have it then them off for 30 seconds and back on with a "routine". Conserves Energy: Keeping the HTC Vive stations running unnecessarily can consume a significant amount of power. This is the default state you'll find it in when you're not using it actively. Bring the camera within one to three feet (30 to 100 centimeters) of the base. Is there a power button on the base station to turn it off?

I've got it in my room and I can't sleep with the lights. Thanks Originally posted by pyr0kid: Thanks! Just remember when you enable this feature, Steam vr will take longer to boot because the hardware needs to warm up.
